Grab-ity! Media for HK: ArtIST Studio Tours 2011

The 3rd Annual Hell's Kitchen Artists in Studio Tours Friday June 24 – Sunday 26, 2011.
New York, April 2011 – FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Things Are Cooking In Hell's Kitchen! and not for the first time...

At the risk of stating the obvious, New York City is The Art Mecca; and although some petty contenders such as Beijing and Berlin challenge its nonchalant dominance as they insist on obnoxiously nibbling at its heels with some fine art of their own, what can we say, we still rule!

We're Gonna Set the Streets on Fire! (Not literally, except perhaps our stunning alumni fire and belly dancer....)

A New Tradition has formed in one of Manhattan's Oldest Neighborhoods – June 24th – 26nd Parties & informal after parties each evening, at venues from Major to neighborhood to intimate Art Salon. June 25th & Sunday, June 26th 12pm – 6pm: Open Studios throughout Hell's Kitchen. Free Self Guided Art Tour to meet the Artists and Performers, often in their Homes and Promoting the Artists, Galleries, Theaters and Businesses of Hell's Kitchen. And to set free a three day unruly, insatiable Art Bacchanalia.

The Third Annual Hell's Kitchen Artist Studio Tour is a free event where scores of artists open their homes, galleries, and studios (their heart also) for a self guided tour. Participating artists include individuals with well established and honored careers, as well as emerging artists, and all mediums will be represented: including fine art, sculpture, music, fashion, photography, theater, dance, comedy, body painting, public spectacle and much more.

More Stupendous Artists per Square Feet than You Can Handle. And we know you've been around the block a few times...

As far as audacious, expressive, captivating artists, look no further (at least between May 20th and 22nd). We have them all: The entrancing fairy-like goddess, the raging social gut wrencher, the bewitching temptress dancer, and in case pouring egos and profound, howling souls is your thing – we've got those too.

More

Anyway, just to get your juices going, please have a deeper look at this first batch of superb & unique artists - a sensational enthralling trio; we're pretty sure you'll find them, their art and possibly their naughty story an enticing, vivacious, not-too-shabby addition to your magazine's slate.

In one phone: we can get you in the room with them. Getting your jaded equilibrium out in one piece, that's gonna be the tricky part... [O.E.]

HK:ArtIST 2011 is proud to Present: (NOT in Alphabetical order, nor gender specific):

Scott Goodwillie (ScottGoodwillie.com): A Dali-esque talented Surrealist whose masterpieces could easily grace any of the finest Museums in the world. Tall, modest hippie-esque great single Dad of adorable 11 year twins, boy & girl, whose fortunes have varied from high level patrons to struggling to get by. Feast your eyes on his glorious 360 view Web Site and amongst his best work, of his beautiful model-muse, is “Nikki’s Demons”.

Yuka Hasagawa (Yukany.com) This superb and prestigious artist is also a highly celebrated figure in International Fashion as her art has been front cover NY Times and Dan’s Hampton Paper to name a few. Her exquisite, cutting edge, couture hats and accessory designs are featured at Barneys and top retail establishments on two continents. Although somewhat less vocal than Simon Cowell she is also a lifetime Judge at juried art exhibits in Japan.

Giorgio Casu (Giorgiocasu.com): Internationally illustrious self taught artist, teacher, & humanitarian. Conversant curator, body painter whiz of Lovely Things & with his model looks we are all jealous. He has been a gracious teacher, Social Worker Philanthropist, and still is an avid world resident & traveler. His books feature an assortment of startlingly well rendered yet distinctively expressive portraits, from Lennon to Obama.

Bet your hiney we and they have got some juicy stories to tell and tons of others; we would smear them shamelessly behind their backs if they were not so...*sigh*, brilliant, pure and true artists...

Be sure to give us a ring for all the nasty,
Respectfully,
